

A woman with short brown hair, wearing a white button-down shirt and dark pants, is sitting on a black wooden chair. She is smiling and looking towards the camera. The room is filled with numerous picture frames of various styles and colors, including gold, silver, and wood. Some frames are hanging on the wall, while others are stacked on shelves. In the foreground, two white dogs are sitting on a patterned rug, looking up at the woman. A large, ornate chandelier hangs from the ceiling, and a wooden table with a framed picture on an easel is visible on the left.

easter

CONSERVATION
SERVICES

317.396.0885

museum quality
matting & framing

antique frames

conservation of:

- frames •
- furniture •
- objects •
- textiles •
- prints •
- paintings •

Jean Easter, Professional Associate,
American Institute for the Conservation of Historic and Artistic Works

1134 east 54th street, suite j
indianapolis
(54th & the monon shops)
www.easterconservation.com

tuesday through friday 10-6
saturday 10-5
monday by chance or appointment